Outback Camp

Moose River Outpost
Jackman, Maine
August 11-14 2010

Moose River Outpost is a camp in Jackman, Maine with over 70,000 acres to use for the purpose of providing a retreat for Christians, both young and old. It provides a great atmosphere for relaxing, enjoying god's nature, sharing in others' company, and just having fun!

Types of Lodging*

Tent platforms fit a four man tent; there are about five of those. Larger tents will get a ground spot in the same vicinity along the lake edge.

There is one cabin set aside for the teen girls, and one set aside for teen boys.

There are four 14-16 person capacity cabins; two of them are planned for women, girls under 13, and babies, (port-o-cribs not provided.) The other two are planned for men, and boys under 13 years old. Single parents with opposite gender children under 13 years old please speak to us about options.

There is one cabin for senior ladies, 6-9 occupants. This cabin has a kitchenette which will help accommodate special dietary needs. (Payment of the meals fee is still required.)

There is one family size cabin with kitchenette is available for a family group: first come first served. Max 10 occupants. (Payment of the meals fee is still required.)

Two smaller cabins are reserved for special circumstances. Contact Diane Simmler about these.

*All accommodations are reserved on a first come, first served basis.
